That's the process for State lead sites where EPA signed or concurred on the ROD. Where we did not, like General Mills, EPA participation in the Five-Year Review is not required, but in this case you have requested it and we are glad to participate.

Section 2.1.2 What are the roles of the support agency?

The role of the support agency (EPA) is to participate in the review process, if requested, and review and comment on the Five-Year Review report. Where the State is the lead agency for a response action (such as conducting a Five-Year Review), the NCP provides that it must obtain the EPA's concurrence (40 CFR section 300.515(e))

The lead agency (MPCA) should give the support agency an adequate opportunity to participate in the five-year review process and to review and comment on the draft Five-Year Review report before it is finalized....The goal should be to resolve any concerns of support agencies before drafting the final report. In any case, the support agency may provide written comments on the 5YR report. Lead and support agencies should work together throughout the 5YR process to ensure that the concerns are resolved in a timely manner, and to the extent practicable, prior to finalizing the 5YR report.
